[I]f professors really thought student-edited journals were not institutionally competent to review scholarship, they would sort into their own peer-reviewed journals. . . . [U]ltimately I don’t see control over the submissions process (the fun part) shifting to professors, until the latter start handling the citechecking and production process (the not-so-fun part).

James Tierney

Final Thoughts on Journal Submissions, Opinio Juris, opiniojuris.org (May 9, 2011)
Contents

Jacob A. Stein ................................................................. 275
   Howe & Hummel on 5th Street

G. Edward White ............................................................ 283
   The Lost Internment

FROM THE BAG

Ross E. Davies ............................................................. 303
   West’s Words, Ho!: Law Books by the Million,
   Plus a Few

West Publishing Co. ..................................................... 311 Law Books by the Million: An account of the largest law-book house in the world,—the home establishment of The National Reporter System and The American Digest System

REVIEW

Bennett Boskey ........................................................... 343
   Judicial Biography: A Few Reflections
   Seth Stern and Stephen Wermiel, Justice Brennan: Liberal
   Champion (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt 2010)

EX POST

Bob Rains ................................................................. 351
   Sum Justice: Smith v. Smith, 938 N.E.2d 857
   (Ind. App. 2010)

Credits & Featured Books ............................................. 353