the Clerk's Office will telephone counsel for clarification. While IPA notation and the user-friendly Pronunciation Guide in BRYAN A. GARNER, DICTIONARY OF LEGAL USAGE xxvii (3d ed. 2011) are more precise (and are employed in the Pronouncing Dictionary), they are not universally known and using them would only impose a burden on the Clerk's Office. We therefore do not recommend their use on the Argument Form.

The editors welcome corrections and suggestions for additional Pronouncing Dictionary entries. We are also assembling a list of typographical errors in case names.

THOUGHTS FOR A YEAR

The calendars, deskbooks, and such that we lawyers often receive during the winter holidays are boringly predictable – full of lightweight, shopworn, jolly cynicism about the law and its servants. But this year some of us will get something better. The Lawyers Jokes, Quotes, and Anecdotes 2013 Calendar from Andrews McMeel Publishing has plenty of the usual law humor, but much of it is relatively fresh, and it has been selected and arranged with unusual sophistication and care. See, e.g.:

LAWYERS

Greed vs. Greed* makes for the kind of lawsuits that are settled between the lawyers as soon as both sides decide to take what they can get. Principle vs. Principle is a holy war, and no holy war has ever been settled out of court.
