

THE PLASTIC CONSTITUTION ON RAILS

We will not be reviewing The Lone Ranger (Disney 2013), but we must say that it was nice to see – in a film filled with law enforcement tactics of the sorts that typify action-adventure flicks – a salute to the Constitution. It was doubly pleasing to discover that Lego has licensed that salute. And it was downright thrilling to find that Lego might be developing a broader interest in the law, having also added a salute to the judiciary to its “Minifigures” line. Here they are together, an English Judge aboard an American Constitution:

