

TO THE BAG

AN OPENING FOR OPENERS

To the Bag:

Here are pictures (above) of one version of Mr. O'Brien's brass letter openers – mentioned by Colin Clark in his letter in your Winter issue (The Card and the Court, 24 Green Bag 2d 101 (2021)) – which we have here at The Lawbook Exchange.

And here is another version of O'Brien's letter openers (next page), which I have been using for some years.

To the Bag

A BRIGHT GREEN PAST AND PRESENT, AND FUTURE?

To the Bag:

My legal career, I fear, becomes drab,
Now that my work has appeared in the Bag!
But hopes do abound and fears do upend,
At the prospect of publishing again!

UN-AMERICAN JUDICIAL BASEBALL TEAM

To the Bag:

I enjoyed Colin Clark's letter (The Card and the Court, 24 Green Bag 2d 101 (2021)) about his recently collected photo depicting the Supreme Court of 1933. Artist Aline Fruhauf's print entitled "Baseball Team," which is a take on that photo, was identified as illustrative of un-American propaganda activities by the Special Committee on Un-American Activities of the U.S. House of Representatives in the committee's 1944 report on that subject. I have enjoyed the print and the photo, both of which hang in my office [next page – print lower left and photo lower right]. Scrutiny of Supreme Court criticism appears to have changed since.
